

Contain It! - Raising Awareness of Process Safety Hazards

engage & embed

How we made it real - our Top Tips

- 1 Give plenty of notice – your people in the field will need adequate time to make arrangements to attend.
- 2 Take ownership of delivery – the training will add more value if a subject matter expert from your company provides a local context.
- 3 Operations is not the only target audience – people who work in engineering design and maintenance planning roles, and anyone who works on a drilling rig will also benefit from this training..

What's in it for us?

“The visual effects we had throughout the training were very informative. It actually highlighted the dangers associated with the jobs that we do ”

(Field Technician)